Additional Comments by Supervised Visitation Programs that Provided Information

Valerie Tolentino (Family Ties) – Parties must be court ordered from Orange County. Supervised visitations are conducted at Cherokee Elementary School. Exchanges can take place either at Cherokee School, Family Ties office at the Courthouse, or Orange County Jail locations; all depend on the order. Administrative functions take place at the Families Ties office (located at the Courthouse) during the work week.

Janene Bussell (Kids in Distress) – The parenting program is not offered as a direct part of the Visitation Program, but many clients with open dependency cases are enrolled in both programs and the programs coordinate services and provide feedback to one another.

Manuela Moeller (Lutheran Services) – We deal directly with DCF. Parents get counseling through other programs.

Gail Tunnock (Children's Advocacy Center of Collier County) – Our visitation program does not provide parenting programs however, our agency does provide the Nurturing Parenting program. We often assist families with exchanges in working out schedules when the court orders are non-specific especially in DV injunction cases before there are formal parenting plans in place.

Tom Barr (Valued Visits Supervised Visitation and Monitored Exchange Program) – CASTLE's mission statement is "preventing Child Abuse and Neglect through Education and Awareness". Other Programs CASTLE offers and that the Valued Visits Program has access to: Safe Families Program - An in-home program that offers parent education and support for families with minor children. Families First Program - A five hour educational class for parents who are divorcing; to learn how to eliminate emotional trauma to their children. Positive Parenting - Classes where parents learn new parenting skills to help them raise their children in a healthy, positive manner. High Hopes for Kids - Groups for children who are experiencing the emotional consequences of their parent's divorce and separation. Strengthening Families - Parents and children come together in a group setting to resolve family issues, in this family skills training program.

Jackie Dalton (Children's Visitation Center for Families with Domestic Violence) – The cases at the Children's Visitation Center for Families with Domestic Violence are court ordered cases through Osceola County only.

Stephanie Centella (Pasco Counseling and Visitation) – We also provide Coping with Crying Classes (Shaken Baby).

Sheila Miller (Children and Families Supervised Visitation) – We will be adding a 'neutral drop-off/pick up' service in the near future.

Linda Davis – I do off site visits and have a few other supervisors that I use. They are all independent contractors. There are several programs that we recommend to people, but we do not provide any.

Tina Friedman (Family Resource Center of SW Florida) – The Family Resource Center currently is contracted with the 20th circuit court system to provide court ordered supervised visitation. We operate out of Children's Advocacy Centre through their generous donation of space. The vision of The Family Resource Center is to ultimately provide many of the services as described in the questionnaire. We are hopeful that in time we will secure funding to become independent and have our own space to work from. Our hours of operation at this time are limited to Saturdays and Sundays only. We do refer to private supervisors when it becomes apparent that the families being serviced at our agency require more than we can offer.

Mark Roseman (Toby Center) – Please share findings. Also, encourage collaborations. The Toby Center was conceived as a multi services agency. I am glad that there is an understanding of why this concept is a likely key to family healing and improved outcomes for children.
